31	A	Megan Miessler	Director of Programs	Lutheran Counseling Services	Anxiety in Children	Anxiety will rear its head in children differently than what we as adults experience. How can you tell if a student you are working with is struggling with anxiety? What can you do to assist the child and the family? Join Megan Miessler, LCSW, as she leads a discussion around the symptoms of anxiety in children and how to respond as teachers and loved ones.	Megan Miessler is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker and a trained Director of Christian Education in the Lutheran Church Missouri-Synod. She currently serves as the Director of Programs at Lutheran Counseling Services. Megan has experience working in the private and public school setting as a school social worker, and began the School Counseling Ministry at Lutheran Counseling Services. She has worked in disaster response to crisis and tragedies with organizations, schools and congregations in North Dakota, Virginia, and Florida. She specializes in counseling children, couples, and families. Megan is married to her husband Matthew. They are blessed with three beautiful children which bring joy and activity to their lives.	All
32	A	Kim Fritz	Administrative Coordinator	Our Savior Lutheran Church and School	Plan It Right: Meeting and Special Events	Does your church or school hold training sessions, meetings, and/or special events? Uncertain about the best approaches to ensure success? Learn about effective and efficient meeting/special event planning from a seasoned professional. Strategies, tips and tricks will be shared to help attendees return to their office ready to plan it RIGHT!	Kim Fritz serves as Administrative Coordinator at Our Savior Lutheran Church and School in St. Petersburg FL. She has worked in non-profit, for-profit, and educational settings throughout her administrative career including Eckerd College and the YMCA of Greater St. Petersburg. Kim has produced dozens of meetings, events and fundraisers of various scopes and complexities which have been highly regarded by all facets of participating constituents. She has received numerous awards for special event planning including the International Special Event Society's Max B. Goldblatt Endowment Award and ISES Orlando Chapter's Best Planning for Non-Profit Event as well as the Association of YMCA Professionals Regional Innovation Award.	Anyone who is interested in producing the most seamless and professional meeting/special event possible for your group!
40	A	Michael Hageman	Pastor	Trinity Lutheran Church and School	Flooding Children to Life	"Baptism Now Saves" and yet our conversations in our schools, church parking lots, extra curricular activities and families are about other "damp" situations. During this workshop, we will be exploring best baptismal practices and fundamental scriptural approaches on how to communicate the importance of baptism in the life of people around you. The intention of this workshop is to bring these individuals to the waters of Holy Baptism. Whether you are a teacher, principal, lay person or pastor you will find this basic topic helpful in leading you to hear the glorious question by the Spirit's prompting, "What's preventing me from being baptized?"	Michael Hageman serves as pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church and School of Rockledge, Florida. He was called to Trinity in the fall of 2009. In addition to regular pastoral duties, Hageman teaches Latin and other subjects in the small school and leads weekly chapel. He also is serving as vacancy pastor of Grace Lutheran Church and Pre-school where he serves the pre-school ministry by connecting families to the life of the church. Last year the saints of Trinity celebrated the baptism of 25 individuals. A native of Abilene, Kan., Hageman graduated from Concordia University, Neb., in 2000; and Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., in 2004. Hageman was called to the inner city of Cleveland, Ohio, to Zion Ev. Lutheran Church in 2004 and served on multiple boards and outreach activities involving the youth of Cleveland. Hageman and his wife, Shanna, have two daughters that have attended Lutheran elementary schools.	Primary audience will be Pastors, Principals and Educators. All should benefit from this simple topic on baptism by living out our baptism through our multiple vocations.
41	A	Jeffrey Shanks	Senior Pastor	St John Lutheran Church and School	Worship Beyond the Benediction	We put a lot of preparation and energy into our worship services, but how can we be more strategic in carrying them beyond the benediction and closing songs? Pastor Jeff Shanks and Anette will present practical ways to carry the themes of worship into the Monday through Saturday realms of discipleship, family and outreach.	Pastor Jeff Shanks is serving as Lead Pastor at St John in Ocala, Florida. He has previously served as Sole or Senior Pastor in congregations in Arkansas and Tennessee, and as Worship Pastor in Omaha, Nebraska and Cleveland, Ohio.	Pastors, Worship Leaders, Family Life Directors and those with an interest in seeing worship lived out (Romans 12:1) beyond the sanctuary setting.
45	A	Craig Mathews	Pastor	Hope Lutheran Church	Empowered by Staying Strong	Ministry is demanding and often very demanding. Not only do we deal with stress, but many of us sit too long, too many days. And it takes a toll on our bodies. What we need is movement, especially movement that stimulates the muscles to demand more energy (calories). That, coupled with proper nutrition and portion control will help with weight issues. This workshop is hands on. In essence, it will be a small group bodyweight training workout that you can take home with you and use. Come dressed appropriately.	DCE for 23 years. Pastor for 17 years, currently serving Hope Lutheran Church in Bradenton, FL. Since 2003, I have also had an interest in fitness. I have participated in several "sprint triathlons", several 5K races and the past 7 years have participated in the American Lung association's Fight for Air Climb at the Bank of America building in downtown Tampa. This is a race up 42 flights of stairs or 914 steps. Certified Personal Fitness Trainer through American Council on Exercise since August 2016.	Pastor, Educator, Lay Person Any person who wants to gain some insights on bodyweight workouts to improve their physical health.
60	A	Stephen Carretto	Pastor	St. Paul Lutheran Church and School	Church and School Kingdom Teamwork	Last year St. Paul in Boca saw 37 baptisms come from school families. It takes a total team effort from the first letter that goes out at the beginning of the year to parents, to the teachers having a baptism week that includes other people teaching baptism in the classroom/church (Pastor/DCE/teacher), to the welcoming by the pastor at the front door of school each morning. This workshop will be designed with practical ways that gets the conversation of baptism into the homes of families.	Steve Carretto is the Senior Pastor at St. Paul Lutheran in Boca Raton, FL. He has been pastor at St. Paul for 7 years. The Church/School relationship is a passion of Pastor Steve's as his wife is a Lutheran Educator and sees the everyday impact of how we make disciples and outreach through a school ministry. Last year St. Paul saw 37 baptisms come from school families.	Pastor, School Admin, Teachers
62	A	Sara Willocks	Kindergarten Teacher	St. Paul Lutheran School, Boca Raton, FL	Partnering with Parents: Working Together to Help Our Children Succeed	Research has shown that when we build relationships with families and partner with them, the children benefit. We will discuss a variety of ways to include parents in their child's education. I will explain a program called "Book Buddies" that can be implemented in early childhood classrooms to help involve parents in a fun way!	My name is Sara Willocks. I received my Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education. However, my 12 years of teaching experience has been in Early Childhood classrooms; from 3 year olds through 1st grade. I am currently working on my Master's Degree in Early Childhood Education.	Early Childhood Educators

68	A	Michael Mast	Mission Facilitator, Northern IL District LCMS	St. Paul, Aurora	Reaching People in Your Culture	Culture has changed. Along with that change, instead of the church being "standard equipment" in someone's life, it has in many instances been regulated to a mere "choice" among many different options. Because of this, people are no longer coming to us as they did in the past. Expecting unchurched folks to just show up at our facility on the weekend because of publicity or a nice sounding program just does not work. This workshop focuses on how a congregation and it's members can connect and engage with people in a genuine way in the midst of our changing culture.	Rev. Michael Mast is a certified coach, coach trainer and coach mentor. He has planted six churches throughout the LCMS, and is currently a Mission Facilitator for the Northern Illinois District of the LCMS, working with congregations and their leaders to help them in the areas of mission, vision, attitude change, strategic planning and implementation, outreach, and finding ways to connect and engage with the people of their surrounding communities. He works directly with congregations to help them focus on their community with the intention of assisting them in starting something new to reach new people for Jesus.	Anyone interested in reaching out to people in the midst of a changing culture.
71	A	Jacob Hoyer	Pastor/Teacher	Holy Cross Lutheran Church/ (Satellite: Wellspring Church)	Equipping Teachers for Ministry in the Classroom and Beyond	Join Pastor Jacob Hoyer for a discussion around what it looks like to help Lutheran School workers understand their unique position as ministers to children and families they reach through education. In this session you'll explore goals, strategies, and tactics for mobilizing workers as missionaries to children and families in the classroom and beyond. We'll deal with a practical definition of what "ministry" can be, creative ways to introduce Lutheran doctrine to lifelong Lutherans as well as those with little Christian or Lutheran background, and we'll talk about initiatives you can install right away to help workers grow in their faith personally and in their confidence to share the Good News of Jesus Christ with all those they encounter.	Pastor Jacob Hoyer has a passion for vision and strategy. As a church planter himself, he strives to lead with clarity that drives discipleship multiplication within his congregational context. As a certified God Dreams Navigator he helps churches to clarify who God has made them to be and where God is taking them in the future.	Educators, Pastors, Administrators, DCE's
76	A	Emma Pinter	Administrator	Woodlands Lutheran Church and Early Learning Center	Decline of the church and what to do about it	The workshop will be in two parts. The first will address the recent LCMS study regarding the decline of the church and will provide an overview of the findings as well as the not so very helpful solutions. The second part will include sharing ideas on how to connect to the community in which a church is located, including how to look up demographic information and comparing how the congregation looks vs. how the community looks (in schools, Publix, Walmart, movie theaters, etc.). It will conclude in a brainstorming session of how we can reach the people within our communities by providing them with temporal solutions to their problems while modeling a Christian lifestyle.	Emma Pinter is a life-long Christian having been introduced to the Church of England by her "best friend," at the age of 7. Born and raised in London, England, as a young woman Emma had the opportunity to travel the world and lived in Malaysia and New Zealand before coming... and staying in America. She discovered First Lutheran Church of Sunderland, and became a member of the LCMS shortly thereafter. She lived in Maryland for 18 years and moved to Florida in 2003. Emma has strong Christian values and has served in a variety of ministerial and support positions including Nursery, Sunday School Teacher, VBS Leader, Chair-Christian Education, Chair-Youth Ministry and Congregational Vice President. She has created and implemented many successful in-reach and outreach events. In 2010, Emma was hired by Woodlands Lutheran Church in Montverde as their Administrator where she provides business management, ministerial support and administrative oversight for both the Church and Early Learning Center. 78	A	Karen Wilhelms	Financial Wellness Educator	Concordia Plan Services	Financial Wellness: Concordia Plan Services and You	Get back to the basics of money management, Learn more about the retirement plan benefits available from Concordia Plan Services and how to use the tools and resources to inspire you to work toward a more secure future. Re-Form the way you think about money today.	Karen Kirchner Wilhelms is a Financial Wellness Educator at Concordia Plan Services. With a background in financial advising, she is passionate about helping others to live generously. Having personally witnessed how faulty financial beliefs can affect a family, her mission is to inspire, motivate and transform Christians on their journey to financial well-being.	Pastors and Educators
90	A	Annalisa Fitzsimons, Austin Schubert & Michaela Kraft	DCE	Youth - LYF report	Cultivating Youth Leaders	Two high school students one from Florida and Georgia represented our district at the Lutheran Youth Fellowship Leadership Training in St. Louis. They were equipped with resources to share with adults and youth. This workshop will be an interactive look at the LYF resources, how it helped them to be leaders in their congregations, and how you can do the same with youth in your congregations.	Annalisa is a DCE at Living Hope in Kennesaw, Ga. She is in her second year of DCE ministry and has loved it incredibly! She is a member of the District Youth Ministry Council and in her free time loves to spend time with her family. Austin Schubert is a junior in high school in Kennesaw, Georgia. He loves to play baseball in his free time and hopes to play in college. He is the son of Pastor John Schubert, and he hopes to follow in his dad's footsteps by going to seminary. Michaela Kraft is a senior in high school in Cooper City, Florida. She loves to read, to write and to dance. She hopes to pursue social work in college and specialize in non-profit management. 6	B	Larry Schaefer & Sanya Parson	Pastor	Our Savior Lutheran Church, Orlando, FL	A Simple Tool To Help Churches Teach Children How To Grow and Go In Christ	Reaching more children in our communities and training them to replicate that effort is an effective way to grow our ministries. By using a simple tool to address a definite need youth in our neighborhoods can grow in every aspect of their lives, most importantly spiritually. By empowering young people to grow in their faith we can teach more of them how to reach out and share God's message of love with even more youth in our neighborhoods. "One plants, one waters, but God gives the increase" ... Rebecca's Garden of Hope provides a unique tool that gives congregations a simple way to plant Christ centered seeds in the lives of young people, while developing long term relationships with our neighbors. Our goal in teaching others to use this tool is therefore designed to assist laity by helping them live out their faith in practical, measurable, reproducible ways. In addition we will also share information from other congregations about how their Gardens of Hope have and are continuing to grow. Come and hear how you can plant a Garden of Hope in your church.	Larry Schaefer, a farm boy, born in Ellsworth Kansas. Lutheran School Teacher 30 years. Pastor 22 years. Rebecca's Garden of Hope 8 years. Sanya Parson, a pastor's daughter, a servant filled with compassion for children and their leading the church.	Lay People and other servant leaders
16	B	Pastor Philip J. Rigdon	Senior Pastor	First Lutheran Church and School	Classroom Literature and Writing Skills through Under the Bridge to the Seeds of Light	Rev. Philip J. Rigdon, Senior Pastor of First Lutheran Church and School in Clearwater, Florida, will present teaching literature, reading skills and writing in the classroom through his Christian fantasy novel Under the Bridge to the Seeds of Light. Based in part his own experience in childhood, Pastor Rigdon's novel includes themes such as courage, perseverance and friendship. Through an engaging and fantastic adventure, Under the Bridge to the Seeds of Light also offers Christian theology through allegory. Rigdon will share information on inspiring students through his experience with publishing, a complete program on guided reading and language arts, and more.	Born and raised in Fort Wayne, Indiana, Pastor Rigdon attended Bethlehem Lutheran School and Concordia High School. He is a graduate of Concordia University, Chicago, with a degree in Lutheran Secondary Education: Social Science. Prior to entering the ministry, Pastor Rigdon served as a missionary in Taiwan R.O.C., led outreach ministry at Bethlehem Lutheran Church and taught elementary and middle school. He has earned Master of Education degree from Indiana University. In 2008 Rigdon completed studies at Concordia Theological Seminary in Fort Wayne, soon after which he was ordained at Our Shepherd Lutheran Church in Avon, Indiana. He currently serves as Senior Pastor of First Lutheran Church and School in Clearwater, Indiana. He has published two novels and numerous Sunday School materials for Concordia Publishing House. He and his wife, Jamelyn enjoy traveling, trying new restaurants and taking care of their pet chinchilla, Sunshine.	Educators, DCEs, Pastors
22	B	Charles Crownover	Minister of Music	Woodlands Lutheran Church and ELC	Worship In A Blender!	We examine the practical and spiritual aspects of "blended" worship from a musical perspective. * Moving beyond "worship wars" * Respecting musical heritage * Singing a new song * Encouraging creativity * Who do we serve?	Charles Crownover is Minister of Music at Woodlands Lutheran Church and Early Learning Center in Montverde, Florida. He has been involved in music for most of his life, performing on guitar for both high school and college jazz bands. A graduate of the University of Central Florida with a B.A. in Psychology with graduate work in Education, Charles spent many years in the entertainment industry, performing with such notable acts as the Platters, Spencer Davis, Gene Chandler, and Martha Reeves, as well as various show and dance bands. 43	B	Paul Burtzlaff	Pastor	Our Savior Lutheran Church and School	"Spill Over": Practical ways to strengthen personal relationships and positively impact ministry	Accumulated stresses whether in the home or office often "spillover" into other aspects of life negatively impacting relationships and ministry. Healthy personal relationships positively impact outlook, attitude and ministry. This workshop will briefly provide a theoretical framework to the importance of healthy relationships as well as provide practical strategies and approaches to strengthening personal relationships which will positively "spillover" into ministry and other facets of life.	Paul Burtzlaff has been married to his wife Suzanne for 24 years. They have two daughters, Sydnee (20) and Reagan (18). Paul currently serves as Pastor of Our Savior Lutheran Church and School, St. Petersburg & Clearwater, FL. Paul received his M.Div. from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis; A Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy from Stetson University, DeLand, FL and a Ph.D. in Counselor Education specializing in Marriage and Family from the University of Florida.	Anyone who wants to strengthen their marriage or personal relationship
50	B	Michael Popp	Vicar & FLGA Dir of Athletic Ministries	Grace Lutheran, Jacksonville	Bridging Church and School Relationships through your Athletic Ministry	Schools and churches are always looking for ways to build relationships between school families and church families. I'd like to share some ways we have used our athletic ministry to do this in the past and some ways we are planning to do it in the future. Please come with examples of how you've attempted to do this as well and together let's explore some ways we can all bridge that divide in the years to come with a purpose of sharing Christ and His message of Salvation as often as possible.	This is my 20th year of teaching in Lutheran schools (Columbus, Nebraska, Davenport, Iowa, and Jacksonville). I am currently half way through the SMP program at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis to be the Associate Pastor of Family Ministry. I was an athletic director for 12 years and am currently the Director of Athletic Ministries for the FLGA District.	Athletic Directors, Coaches, Principals, Pastors, Admissions Counselors... anyone who has a passion for sharing Christ..
51	B	Michael Nowicki	Training Manager for SunTrust Bank, Congregational President	Ascension Lutheran Church	Empowering Volunteers and Staff to Excellence	This workshop will help you know how best to coach staff and volunteers to excellence in their vocation or avocation. You will learn how to determine the readiness of volunteers and staff for their willingness to be coached, then learn how to vary your coaching style based on their readiness to be coached. A special emphasis will be placed on how to have difficult conversations with staff and volunteers. You will learn a four-step process that will help make those difficult conversations much easier to work your way through.	Michael Nowicki is a 1983 graduate of Concordia University -- Wisconsin. He served as a professional church worker from 1983 to 2000. He is now Training Manager/Team Lead for SunTrust Bank where he coaches trainers and delivers development programs for senior leadership. Mike also serves as President of Ascension Lutheran Church in Casselberry, Florida, and plays drums and bass for the worship team at Ascension.	Pastors, Principals, Lay Leaders, or anyone who works with volunteers.
75	B	John List	Communications	District Team	Christ like Communication at a Moment's Notice	We've all been in unplanned and unexpected situations where at a moment's notice something that is said -- or done -- can underscore or make an indelible mark on our congregation or school in our local community -- or even worldwide because of a cellphone video having the ability to go viral. We represent our congregations, our pastors, our schools, our principals and our teachers -- and in essence Jesus -- to our members and parents to our community at large. The goal of this workshop is to identify times when we can act quickly and make a Christ-like impression with a reaction and response that shows love and compassion rather than judgment, anger or disdain.	John List is Communications Director for the Florida-Georgia District and Eileen Bishop is Lutheran Life editor. Both have extensive experience in crisis situations working with the media. Using YouTube video examples (the airlines, the government, schools, sporting events) to show how in a moment we have the ability to damage the reputation of our congregation or school -- or make a shining, bright example to a potential worldwide audience (when a cell phone video can easily go viral) -- this workshop will underscore how our congregation or school image can be enhanced or damaged by words or actions that aren't carefully thought out when time is of the essence.	All. These situations happen at our sporting events, school concerts, class trips, community events and anywhere we "represent" ourselves to our communities at large.

38	C	Rev. Thomas Waynick	CEO/Director	Pastoral Institute, Columbus GA	"Moral Injury and Healing of the Soul: An Existential and Spiritual Crisis at the Juncture of Our Moral Limits."	This workshop will offer a description and understanding of Moral Injury in relationship to Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. The participant will learn to recognize how Moral Injury is distinct from PTSD and how it often times relates to PTSD. Therapeutic and theological ramifications, as well as treatment options will be discussed. Through a variety of means, participants will gain knowledge of how the nature of war downrange or in the homeland can wound the human spirit. Discussions will center on what we know and what we are learning about moral injury, as well as how this affects the course of treatment for wounded souls. Perspectives of pastoral counseling will be provided with an eye on intervention for the damaged spirit. Case examples will be presented and group discussions will be facilitated.	CH (COL) Thomas C. Waynick (Ret.) is an Iraq combat veteran and currently the Director/CEO of the pastoral institute in Columbus, GA. He holds three master's degrees and has served as the Clinical Director and Supervisor of the Fort Benning Family Life Training Center. 54	C	Rev. Joseph Song	President	Stepping Stone Mission	Sharing the Hope of Jesus Christ with the Homeless	The Stepping Stone Mission, through the grace of God and with volunteers from Christian churches in the Atlanta area, is helping to build bridges into the faith community for our homeless brothers and sisters. We are ambassadors for Jesus in connecting the homeless, poor, and needy with Him. This outreach provides our homeless brothers and sisters with a community set apart from the streets, centered in Christ, and designed for spiritual transformation, so that God's love will unite us, His children, across social barriers as we grow together into the fullness of Christ. During this workshop, we will discuss how God is mobilizing His children on the streets of Atlanta to be His powerful disciples for reaching the lost and those feeling forsaken and bringing them into His Kingdom. Praise the Lord, with the power of the Holy Spirit, several of God's lost children have come home to our Father through this ministry as their vessel, including 31 souls who have been baptized into Christ and thousands of others who have heard the Gospel proclaimed! Workshop attendees will hear from our ministry leaders including a member of our homeless leaders team. The workshop will cover the following topics: community outreach, ministry to the next generations, reaching a multi-cultural community, gathering and keeping new members, and worship. More information on the Stepping Stone Mission can be found at www.steppingstonemission.net .	Rev. Joseph Song has served as a pastor for more than 35 years. Joseph grew up in very difficult circumstances in South Korea during the 1950s and 1960s. Through American missionaries and soldiers that God chose to bring the Gospel and Love of Jesus to Joseph and provide him with life-saving faith in Jesus Christ, his Lord and Savior. Prior to launching the Stepping Stone Mission in 2009, he served as pastor for the Korean Community Lutheran Church then-housed at Christ the Shepherd Lutheran Church in Alpharetta, Georgia, which remains his home church, and with a number of Korean churches in Georgia and North Carolina. Joseph has served as president of the Korean Pastors Association of North Carolina and of the Southeastern District Presbytery. Prior to serving in ministry in the States, he was a missionary in Malaysia. He graduated from seminary in 1979 and ordained as a pastor in the LCMS at Oak Road Lutheran Church in 2000. It was through serving as a mentor during a youth mission trip to Washington D.C. that the Holy Spirit called Joseph to serve the homeless in America. He has served as mission leader for Stepping Stone since its inception. This call was also confirmed in the heart of his wife, Sharon, who also devotes her full-time energies in serving the homeless through this mission.	All
61	C	Sara Willocks	Kindergarten Teacher	St. Paul Lutheran School, Boca Raton, FL	PLAY—Pathway to Learning and Academic Yearning	The focus of education has shifted to academics and assessment, and this has been pushed down into early childhood classrooms. However research has shown that a child's social and emotional growth is equally important to their academic success and success later in life. Providing opportunities for children to play is vital to helping them develop these necessary skills. This workshop will show how early childhood classrooms lay the foundation for future learning. It will provide ideas that can be implemented in early childhood classrooms to help children develop socially, emotionally, physically, and cognitively.	My name is Sara Willocks. I graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education. However, my 12 years of teaching experience has been in Early Childhood classrooms; from 3 year olds through 1st grade. I am currently working on my Master's Degree in Early Childhood Education.	Early Childhood Educators
66	C	Jan Tumminello	Teacher	St. Paul Lutheran Boca	Teaching with Interactive Notebooks	This workshop is designed to show how to set-up and use an Interactive Notebook system in the classroom. Interactive Notebooks are a great way for students to become organized and accommodates multiple learning styles. The students will be able to "teach back" what they have learned, through personal responses. Personal responses are fun, colorful, and creative. Interactive notebooks can easily be used in grades 4-12 and can be used in any subject. Handouts will be provided.	I have been teaching for a total 27 years, 23 of those years at St. Paul Lutheran Church and School, in Boca Raton, FL. My husband Jim and I have been married for 35 years and have three children. I am currently teaching upper PreAlgebra, Geography (6th grade), Civics (7th grade) and American History (8th grade).	Educators

11	D	Robert Scudieri	President, Mission-Nation-Publishing	Peace, Naples	How to Receive God's Missionaries to America	Dr. Ed Wescott pointed out there is a centrifugal mission, where we send missionaries overseas, and a centripetal mission, where God sends people from overseas to the US to hear the good news of Jesus. At the same time God is sending missionaries from overseas to spread the gospel in America. The workshop will look at Scripture to understand how the Lord has wanted us to treat new Americans, and provide an opportunity to hear the voices and stories of new missionaries—all to understand how your church can be a part of the "centripetal" mission of God.	Twenty-five years of giving leadership to outreach to the new Americans. Graduate of Concordia-Bronxville, Concordia-Senior College and Concordia Seminary. Postdoctoral Research Fellow at Yale Divinity School, where he wrote a book used by both LCMS and Apostolic Church. The book was translated into Spanish, and Russian. In 2016 he became the president of Mission-Nation-Publishing, a 501 (3) (c) organization to "Give a voice to the missionaries to America."	All
14	D	Bruce Lieske	Retired pastor/missionary	Prince of Peace Lutheran Church	Cross and Crescent: the Christian Response to Islam in America	Islam as a political/religious ideology is growing in America. There are currently over 3,000, 000 Muslims and 3,000 mosques in America. The workshop will attempt to answer four questions: 1. What do Christianity and Islam have in common? 2. In what ways do Christianity and Islam differ? 3. Do we have a responsibility to criticize Islam? 4. How do we evangelize Muslims?	Rev. Lieske is a retired LCMS pastor/missionary living in Orlando, FL, with his wife Barbara. He has been blessed by God with a series of challenging careers, including a year in Antarctica and two years in the Arctic as a research meteorologist. During his time at Pt. Barrow, AK, he felt the call into the ministry and after graduating from Concordia Seminary, Springfield, IL, he served three congregations and was the founding pastor of two of them. After his pastoral experience he founded an evangelistic ministry to Jewish people, viz., Burning Bush Ministries, and more recently has been involved in evangelism to Muslims. He is the head of the Florida-Georgia District Task Force on Muslim Evangelism. He has three children and eight grandchildren.	All
21	D	Teri Crownover	Layperson	Woodlands Lutheran Church	PRAYER: Putting the horse before the cart!	The purpose of my presentation is three-fold: 1. To encourage the Biblical teaching of praying, first and foremost; and of praying together, particularly in a group setting; 2. To share the experience of our longstanding Woodlands group that meets every Sunday 1/2 hour before the service begins; 3. To offer practical tips to those interested, and prayer to those in need.	I am a beloved child of God! Truly...what more do you need to know? Let's see... I have attended Woodlands Lutheran Church in Montverde for over 17 years. I am heavily involved in the music ministry and prayer ministry at our church. These are two of my greatest passions, as I seek to serve the Lord by inviting others to serve Him. My husband, Charles, is the minister of music. We have 4 grown children. I am soon to be 58 years old; however, I plan to never retire from participating in working for God's Kingdom - not until He calls me home! I so strongly believe in the power of prayer, and I have a fervent passion for teaching fellow Christians to let go of the fear of praying with others.	Lay persons.
25	D	Sanya Parson & Larry Schaefer	Dir. Rebecca's Garden of Hope	Our Savior Lutheran	Evangelism, Is that for Children Too?	How do we teach our children to become ministry leaders, regardless of their age? How can we prepare youth to more purposely share God's love with their friends, schoolmates and others in our communities. This workshop will help congregations use the RGOH youth evangelism template to invite children to "GROW", "GO" and "SHOW" God's love using resources and tools they have access to each day. Social media has changed the way young people communicate. Why not teach them to plant healthy, Christ-centered seeds using this powerful tool? Come and hear more about ways to build bridges with youth as they begin to learn how to serve others in ministry. This workshop targets elementary and middle school children but can be adapted for youth of all ages. Learn about another creative way to help your youth ministry grow.	Sanya Parson was elected in Jan 2011 by the Board of Directors to serve as the Director of Rebecca's Garden of Hope tutoring and mentoring after school program. Her primary responsibility as Director included developing a user-friendly, Christ-based training template for other schools, churches and organizations, interested in starting their own unique tutoring and mentoring program for "at risk" youth. In addition to that responsibility she continues to be responsible for coordinating the support staff and resources needed to run the program, organizing training sessions, developing brochures and newsletters and finding additional resources to support the organization's efforts. She is also responsible for providing a national network system of resources and information to support other RGOH partners around the country. As the Founder and Director of a local tutoring and mentoring program located at Our Savior Lutheran Church, she is responsible for coordinating the program schedule, recruiting and training tutors, scheduling meetings and also scheduling training sessions. Additionally, she assists with fund raising efforts and coordinates efforts for the Bonus-Bucks Program, Fun Friday and other offsite activities. She also organizes details in the computer lab and ensures IT staff maintains the equipment and keeps all computers running smoothly. One of her other roles is to develop lasting relationships with parents and youth by contacting them on a regular basis to see how they are doing. She accomplishes this by making herself accessible via phone or visits. This is all a part of the ongoing mentoring support needed providing to encourage parents and offer a level of stability in each child's life. Each week she also texts parents to confirm their child's attendance for the tutoring sessions, worship/Sunday School and other activities related to helping children develop a firm foundation, in Christ. Finally she actively engages in mentoring youth taking them on various offsite activities to foster continued growth and enhance personal development.	All

33	D	Curtis Deterding	Senior Pastor	Zion Lutheran Church and Early Childhood Center	Strategic Planning for Dummies	There are so many complicated strategic methods and plans being provided to congregations that have numerous phases and steps that quite frankly makes the entire process arduous and exhausting. I have discovered that many of these strategic planning tools for congregations have the same basic core that I believe has helped me assist several congregations to learn how to develop specific plans for each of their ministries and organizations. It's really not all that complicated and the end result is a wonderfully formatted and organized Annual Report and Strategic Plan. Those who love to organize and plan really rave about the simplicity of this very simple strategic ministry planning process. So if you'd like to try a strategic planning method that is simple, be sure not to miss this workshop. If you want to do more than just maintain a pattern of ministry that changes occasionally when a new idea comes along may find this workshop very helpful. Here is a way to keep the creative and progressive juices flowing as all of your ministries and organizations learn a simple way to plan based on the goals and objectives established by the congregation. It's exciting to hear all the new and exciting things that God does among his people who have used this process.	Rev. Dr. Curtis Deterding, began his professional church career as a middle school Lutheran School teacher at Holy Cross Lutheran School in North Miami, Florida. After graduating from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis in 1987, he was called to serve as Assistant Pastor of Family and Youth in Claremont, North Carolina. From there, Pastor Curtis was called to serve the Lutheran Church--Missouri Synod through special grants as Coordinator of Project Samuel, a church careers recruitment project housed at Concordia University, St. Paul, Minnesota. Serving as an interim campus pastor his last year there, he became sole pastor of Faith Lutheran Church and School in Godfrey, Illinois. The Spirit then called him to serve at Trinity Lutheran Church and School in Fergus Falls, Minnesota before leading him to accept the call as Senior Pastor of Zion Lutheran Church and Early Childhood Center in Fort Myers, Florida. His lovely wife Jo Ann has served as a Lutheran school teacher for many years and they have been blessed with five children and three grandchildren.	Pastors, Lay Leaders

79	E	Susan Merritt	Teacher - 1st Grade	St. Paul Lutheran School	Student-Led Chapel	Jesus said, "Let the little children come to Me and do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of heaven." Children of all ages love to share the message of our Lord and Savior. Why not let them bring the message to your school by leading weekly chapel services? At St. Paul Lutheran School in Boca Raton, all grades from PK3 through 8th have participated in leading weekly chapel. You will be amazed to see and hear the messages that even the youngest children share and how proud they are with their accomplishment! Leading a chapel for the entire school helps build confidence and also prepares students for future speaking and presentation opportunities. In this workshop, you will learn how to prepare a chapel message, what roles students can play (from simple skits to leading the entire service), incorporation of object lessons, and message delivery options. Participants will leave with a packet of proven student-led chapel lessons which can be used for any grade level.	Twelve years teaching experience - 11 years at St. Paul Lutheran School in Boca Raton. (First Grade) Participate on Religion and National Lutheran Schools' Week Committees	Educators, grades PK3 - 8.
