Certified Nature Explore Classrooms are dynamic, nature-based play and learning spaces. Nature Explore Outdoor Classroom Design Services apply research-based, field-tested design principles to create these nature-rich outdoor spaces that can be located anywhere a school, child care center, park, or other community site might have a traditional playground.

Trinity/Rockledge, FL has earned this prestigious recognition. This certification confers on Trinity a number of benefits, including membership in an ever-expanding network of nearly 600 spaces.

"Trinity's commitment to providing research-based and nature-rich learning offers a wonderful example to programs and educators throughout the country," says Heather Fox, director of communications and outreach for the Nature Explore program. "These spaces inspire hands-on activity, creativity, play and plenty of time exploring the natural world for children of all ages."

These unique outdoor classrooms offer interactive, open-ended materials and elements that allow children to use their creativity, imaginations and initiative. Research consistently shows that children who learn and grow in Nature Explore Classrooms exhibit enhanced concentration, develop creativity and problem solving techniques, manage stress in healthy ways and develop skills across the spectrum of academic and creative learning.

On May 15, 2025, Trinity held a Dedication and Ribbon Cutting ceremony. Prayer and Dedication were conducted by The Rev. Ron Meyr, Pastor Liaison to Trinity, with the ribbon cut by kindergarten teacher Katy Miller and Principal Becky Houston prior to the school's annual Spring Fling.

"Trinity/Rockledge has been providing learning experiences for more than 65 years and we are always looking for new ways to engage our students" explains Becky Houston, Principal. "We are excited to offer our students opportunities to explore the natural world. God created an amazing world and it is important that we teach children to understand, appreciate and help care for His creations."

Trinity's Outdoor Enrichment Courtyard offers several areas designed for learning and exploration: Nature Art, Music and Movement, Nature STEM, Loose Parts Play, Climbing and Balance, God's Garden, an Outdoor Chapel, and Group Fun. "Under a large shade structure, we added picnic tables to create a gathering space. This is a great spot for our upper elementary classes to have outdoor activities and lessons," Houston continues. "It is also used by students and families at events, such as our Fall and Spring Festivals — an ideal space for fellowship!" This new environment is located between the church and school buildings.

Teaching children about Jesus and helping them to explore, appreciate and help care for the beautiful world God created is a passion of the teachers and staff of Trinity Lutheran School. According to Houston, when they were in the early stages of the design process, they knew they wanted to include an outdoor chapel — a place where classes can worship, praise, sing, and study God's word.

At the center of this area is a cross that is made up of small painted squares. Every child and teacher painted a square on that cross. Another special area is their garden area — named God's Garden. Each class has their own garden bed for planting, and they are responsible for watering and caring for the plants.

"Living in Florida, we have Monarch butterflies year-round — as a result we have a butterfly garden and Monarch enclosure. We have been blessed to observe the life cycle of the Monarch from egg to caterpillar to chrysalis to butterfly. The children get so excited when we release the butterflies! Being able to observe this amazing transformation has truly given our students a greater appreciation for God's creations.

"Building such an amazing learning space for our students has been such a blessing for us. We are grateful to all those who have helped us throughout this process: our staff, families, students and volunteers for their time, hard work and donations; Faith/Viera Lutheran Church; Goodson Paving; Rockledge Gardens; John and Katherine Duda Foundation and the Early Learning Coalition of Brevard County, Florida," Houston concludes. "We pray God's blessings on our Outdoor Enrichment Courtyard. May this space inspire wonder and awe to those who enter." ✝

COMPELLED TO SHARE

Almost two years ago, we celebrated the 75th Anniversary of the Florida-Georgia District. From the very beginning, this District understood that it was all about mission. Beginning with 22 congregations, the early leaders looked beyond seeing that they were fed on God's Word and sacraments – to also taking seriously the mission of God.

This District has sought to live that out by being evangelical, a people compelled to "go and make disciples" who make disciple makers! Throughout our District's history we have been abundantly blessed with mission-minded staff and leaders at all levels.

That remains true today as we have a staff who works tirelessly, passionately and joyfully to help every member of our District be "Equipped, Empowered and Engaged" in the mission of Connecting People to Jesus!

As the FLGA District staff, we are here to come along side of congregations, workers and lay leaders, to help in the work that God has given them as His ambassadors, reconcilers, and the priesthood of believers we were made to be. To guide our work from the District level, we are led not only by our mission of Connecting People to Jesus, but our Critical Ministry Targets of Outreach and Leadership.

During the past two years, the FLGA Board of Directors and Staff spent time assessing the roles of the Board and Staff. This has resulted in greater clarity regarding our mission and how the District as a whole works together.

The Board and Staff's work has resulted in the development of a Vivid Description for the future and new Critical Ministry Targets. Those can be found on our website. We are the Body of Christ with unique and various gifts, working together and Compelled to share Christ's love.

Our focus is on the opportunities before us today, while we also look to the future. I believe we must take Jesus' words to heart when He said in JOHN 9, "As long as it is day, we must do the works of Him who sent me. Night is coming, when no one can work." Now is the time for us to "go and make disciples." Now is the time for us to "be Christ's witnesses in Jerusalem, Judea, Samaria and to the ends of the earth!"

Connect people to Jesus NOW! For while we wait or abdicate our responsibility, people are separated from God, dying and going to hell!

The population of the states of Florida and Georgia more than doubled during the last 40 years – and will continue to expand. The harvest fields are right outside our homes, churches, schools, places of work and wherever we find ourselves. Christ's command is clear, so let's "Love our neighbors" by meeting them where they are and . . . share with them what Christ has done for us personally and what He's done for them!

Let the FLGA District be a people known for loving like Jesus and sharing the gift of forgiveness and life. Let us be a people who are so filled with and overwhelmed by the love of Christ that we are COMPELLED to share it in every situation!

CHRIST'S LOVE

At the District Convention, I shared the following – I am not “District.” The staff and Board of Directors are not “District.” My friends . . . YOU ARE the District! Yes, I along with the Staff & Board are here to work alongside of you and your whole congregation as you seek to proclaim the Good News of Jesus with your community. As those who are baptized and filled with the Spirit of God. As those who are regularly fed on the very Word of God. As those who receive Christ personally through His Body and Blood, you and those in your congregations are called, equipped and empowered to share Christ's love. As a matter of fact, I know that each of you have experienced the love of Christ. I know that He has met you in your hurt, fear, pain, grief, abandonment, loss and sin.

Critical Ministry Targets that will guide our work:

1. Cultivate the Christian Identity of Every Disciple;
2. Support Church Workers and Leaders in Healthy Ministry;
3. Help Congregations Engage Their Communities;
4. Foster a Sense of Shared District Identity.

You – yes – you have a testimony to share! Therefore our lives must reflect, “Christ's love Compels us!”

This is about getting back to our biblical evangelical roots. We, the Church, have been set apart to “go and make disciples, who make disciple makers. We have been set apart to be Christ's holy priesthood . . . “to declare the praises of Him who called us ‘out’ of darkness and into His marvelous light.”

Let me share with you the abbreviated version of the new Vivid Description of what we pray the future of the FLGA District will look like: The people of the Florida-Georgia District are compelled by Christ's love to connect the lost, confused and hurting to Jesus, who is the true source of peace, hope and life!

As those saved by grace, we must share the message of salvation. Our focus is on empowering congregations to help individuals discover the hope and joy of salvation. Our task is to ignite the disciple-making potential within our congregations, so that all people experience the life-changing love of Jesus.

Corporate worship and vital community is foundational. We love our neighbors by reaching out to people where they are, building relationships, and discipling others. We are Along-siders, called to live urgently, reflecting Christ's love in our daily lives, so that the hope and joy of salvation overflow into the world around us.

I encourage you to go to the District website and read the full version. As your along-siders, the Board has set four Critical Ministry Targets that will guide our work:

1. Cultivate the Christian Identity of Every Disciple;
2. Support Church Workers and Leaders in Healthy Ministry;
3. Help Congregations Engage Their Communities;
4. Foster a Sense of Shared District Identity.

There is great value in having a clear vision. PROVERBS 29:18 is one place this is addressed when the Lord says: “Where there is no vision, people perish.” If we have indeed received the gifts of God's mercy and call to live as those “Compelled by Christ's love” to share what we know. Then it is our call to share what we have so that others do not perish eternally.

May the Lord bless us as we work together to make this a reality and see many more be connected to Jesus. Please watch for more information to come. ✝

PRESIDENT FLORIDA-GEORGIA DISTRICT
LUTHERAN CHURCH—MISSOURI SYNOD

Florida-Georgia District For the Year Ended

Greetings! We in the District Office thank you for your continued prayers, partnership, and financial support. We look forward to the opportunities this year to reach many for Jesus. We also are praying you continue to be in good health and good spirits through Him who strengthens us!

These pages include a summary of the FLGA District Financials for Year Ending, December 31, 2024.

Overview:

Although the FLGA District fiscal year end was changed to December 31, 2024, congregational giving exceeded our 12-month budget of $1.97 million. The District continues to operate with no real debt and all funds with donor restrictions are fully funded.

Expenses continue to be monitored closely as the missions of the District are funded according to the budgeted plan.

Statement of Activities:

Unrestricted support from congregations totaled $2,025,689. This is $54,855 above the 12-month budget of $1.97 million. Net assets released from restriction are related to funds set aside by donors for a specific purpose. Net assets released from restriction increased by $326,000 compared to the prior 12-month year. This increase was due to the increase in disaster response funds released.

This increase is also related to the release of AMOs (Annual Measurable Objectives) within the Florida education system – restricted funds which did not occur in the prior year. Net Assets are released from restriction at the time the purpose has been satisfied.

Restricted funds are not utilized to fund operating expenses and their usage can vary greatly from year to year. Convention, conferences and workshop revenue decreased by $86,051 compared to the prior 12-month year due to District events such as the President's Equip Conference not occurring the current year.

Gifts, property for the current year, we saw the FLGA District transfer two properties to separate churches within the FLGA District for further development and mission work for a disposal of asset value of $1.5 million.

Other income increased by $50,781 as compared to the prior year as the District received more donations from other agencies and individuals.

Total expenses for year end 12/31/2024 were $3,719,212 versus $3,769,098 for FYE 2024, or a decrease of $49,886. Keeping in mind we are comparing 12-months to 12 months; this was due to several factors: The decrease is attributable to congregational services programs which increased by $120,647 which is the net result of a decrease in conference expenses along with an increase in the disbursement of disaster response grants. There was an increase in world and national missions programs as we distributed AMOs funds related to a property sale. Additionally, preparing church workers programs expense slightly decreased as we had only 12-months of activity vs. 12-months in the prior year.

Mission and ministry support costs decreased by $488,133 as we moved Lutheran LIFE publishing related costs to the congregational services program, and there were no synodical convention expenses which had occurred in the prior year.

A decreased cost of $78,042 in ecclesiastical administration primarily related to less travel costs compared to prior year as well as switching year end to 12/31/2024 and only having 12-months of activity.

As always, we strive to be good stewards with the funds entrusted to us and work diligently to use them in a manner that meaningfully benefits and supports ongoing ministry.

In July, 2022, the FLGA District signed a new lease agreement beginning January 1, 2023, with our current landlord for a new space in our existing building located at Citadel near the Orlando International Airport. Currently, we have been informed by our landlord, we will most likely remain in our current Suite 500 for the remainder of our lease at the reduced rent.

During FYE 2024, we continued to fulfill our commitment to the Synod of 17% of all congregational giving for a total of $353,462. We allocated $61,000 or 3% of congregational giving towards the District Revitalization Fund, which helps underwrite District events such as the Pastors Conference, President's Equip Conference, and other District-wide events.

The change in net assets for the past 12 months decreased by $1,454,070. This decrease was largely due to the transfer of those two properties to churches within the District for future mission work.

Pelican Community Center and Lutheran Church in Naples, FL and Lake Oconee Lutheran Church receiving Milledgeville, GA property for use and expansion of mission work.

2025 Work Program

The highlights of the 2025 work program are as follows:

Congregational budgeted support remains the same at $2,150,000. Through unanimous support of the Board of Directors, the budgeted tithe on congregational support received at the District remains set at 20%.

This is broken down into two components. Synod receives 17% of this support and the remaining 3% is budgeted to further fund District Revitalization efforts.

The missions budget continues to offer 0% mission loans through Kingdom Seed and Miracle Grow programs exclusively. The Missions budget also supports three campus ministries and eight other Lutheran Recognized Service Organizations (RSOs) (e.g., Lutheran Services Florida and Mission: Haiti), as well as taking care of various maintenance expenses at District owned property in Athens, GA, Milledgeville, GA, Fort Myers, FL, Tallahassee, FL and Naples, FL.

We believe this work program is within our current funding forecast and it continues to enable the District to serve, assist and encourage the congregations of the District in the ministry of Jesus Christ. The Board of Directors and District Staff continue to monitor expenses and will make necessary adjustments as required.

If you have any questions regarding this report, please feel free to contact me at the District office. I am always happy to answer any questions. May God continue to bless and keep you in His care. ✝

ANNUAL REPORT

Missions

In the Florida-Georgia District, missions are rooted in prayer and powered by partnership. While congregations serve as God's local mission agencies to do the work of missions, the District comes alongside to encourage, equip, engage and resource. This reflects our commitment to Healthy Ministry and Shared District Identity. "You can do it – we can help" is not only the motto of the Home Depot, but also a motto of District Missions. We support Christian Identity by training and coaching of church planters, pastors, and everyday missionaries through programs like the Missionary Pathway, Visioning Workshops, and individual mentoring.

Through REV7:9, we Engage Community by equipping leaders to reach across cultures. Mission dollars fund efforts in Puerto Rico, Haiti, and throughout our District. Campus ministries in Athens, Tallahassee, and Estero, along with several RSOs and new worship starts, expand our reach. Outreach is strengthened through initiatives such as Kingdom Seed Investments and Miracle Grow grants, helping congregations launch new ministries, ethnic outreach, and micro-churches. Kingdom Seed Investments of up to $10,000 were given to 13 congregations this past year. Miracle Grow Outreach grants of $300 each were distributed to multiple congregations. Assisting with 5 new congregation and school starts/expansions further support our mission targets.

At the heart of it all is prayer—join us daily at 10:02 to pray for the harvest (Luke 10:02) as we seek God's blessing on His mission. Set your alarm and join your fellow District members in daily prayer for God's mission here! ✨

Schools And Youth Ministry

School and Youth Ministry advances the mission of the Florida-Georgia District to connect people to Jesus through four key focus areas. First, it fosters Christian Identity by providing doctrinal training for teachers and helping students and youth learn Biblical truths and recognize their identity as redeemed children of God. Second, it promotes Healthy Ministry by supporting healthy workers. School and youth leaders are encouraged, uplifted, and supported in various ways, including training for school boards, encouraging strong church-school partnerships, and supporting worker wellness through the Ministerial Assistance Program. Third, it helps schools and youth programs Engage the Community, recognizing that only 12% of students are LCMS members. Through outreach, service projects, and programs like the Servant Event Camp for middle schoolers, the Gospel is shared in neighborhoods across the District. Lastly, it builds a shared District Identity by offering conferences and training events such as the Educators Conference, Youth Ministry Conference, Middle School Youth Gathering, and High School Leadership Event. ✨

Congregational Services

Congregational Services through the Florida-Georgia District supports mission work in our member congregations, as well as their members and communities. This program focuses on several mission targets. Through providing Disaster Response Grants and President Circle Grants to those affected by natural disasters and in financial crisis we prioritize our ministry targets of sustaining Healthy Ministry and Engage the Community.

This last year through partnership with LCMS $800,000 of funds were distributed to those most in need of help during Hurricane Helene and Milton. Ministry Safe abuse awareness training furthers the focus on uplifting and sustaining Healthy Ministry. We also work to build our Shared District Identity by providing our free publication of Lutheran LIFE magazine to our congregations, and schools. Through our various conferences and workshops, we train, equip and empower attendees in our Christian Identity so that they may share the gospel with those around them. ✨

Preparing Church Workers

Preparing Church Workers through the Florida-Georgia District focuses to support and create Healthy Ministry by providing various financial assistance options to qualified students and church workers. Every year students can apply for scholarship funds through the flgadistrict.org website. A scholarship committee reviews applicants and approves grant dollars to support educational costs at the various Concordia learning institutions. The District supports qualified students' educational costs through the Ethnic Immigrant Institute of Theology (EIIT) and Center for Hispanic Studies (CHS). Annually the Student Debt Repayment Program issues grant dollars to assist our qualified rostered church workers with funds to reduce educational debt as they are working in the Florida-Georgia District. Through these programs we can assist with the weight of debt that may be a result of an education with the goal of focusing on ministry work and less on financial matters. By assisting with the reduction of educational debt, the Florida-Georgia District works to advance the mission of creating health church worker which supports our mission of fostering Healthy Ministry. ✨

One of the Dulos tou Christo awards was given posthumously at the last convention to the Rev. David Brighton, pastor at Mount Calvary/Warner Robins, GA and a District Vice President. Brighton had also been Chairman of the Board of Directors for the FLGA District.

Dr. Peter Meier Enters "Refirement"

The Rev. Dr. Peter Meier has officially entered into "refirement" — as he so eloquently described the launch of his retirement from the Florida-Georgia District as Executive Director of Missions and Outreach. Meier's official start date with the District was February 1, 2020.

Dr. Meier came to the FLGA District from the Center for U.S. Missions — where he served as Executive Director. Before joining the Center in 2013, Meier served in the Minnesota South District as Executive Assistant to the President (2005-2006) and Assistant to the President for Missions (2005-2013).

Meier also served from 1982-2005 as Senior Pastor of Zion Lutheran Church and School in Mayer, MN. Peter received his undergraduate degree from Concordia Teachers College/ River Forest, IL in 1978, and his Master of Divinity from Concordia Theological Seminary/Fort Wayne, IN in 1982. His Doctor of Ministry degree was granted in 2011 by Concordia Theological Seminary in Fort Wayne. Peter's research and doctoral thesis was on the topic of missional leadership in Lutheran schools.

Peter met his wife Kathy at Concordia River Forest; they were married in 1979. Kathy earned her Masters Degree in Special Education from Concordia/St. Paul, MN in 2009 and served as Coordinator at the Center for US Missions beginning in 2013. The couple is blessed with three married children and six very active grandchildren. Their three adult children attended without their spouses and tied the weekend into Father's Day. Daughter, Jennifer, brought grandson Victor along.

The FLGA District feted Dr. Meier and Kathy at a Refirement Dinner in Orlando on Friday, June 13, 2025. Debbie Arrington, Peter's Executive Assistant, coordinated the evening — attended by 50 family members and friends. Peter and Kathy's three children, along with grandson Victor, also attended and told of the passion their parents had growing up in a mission environment. Toasts and roasts were delivered by President Emeritus, The Rev. Dr. Greg Walton, The Rev. David Dahlke and Dan Reichard. Debbie Arrington also underscored the energy, enthusiasm and work ethic Peter Meier brought to his position these past five years.✝

St. Matthews Lutheran church's leadership was starting to get a bit anxious about a trend that they noticed. It was harder to ignore the decline in worship and offerings. In their shock and panic they were starting to throw out ideas about what they could do to fix it.

Jessica wanted to start a food pantry. Howard wanted to get a youth leader and build a gym – if they could find the money. Blanche, her husband Joey and a few of the others thought the best thing to draw a crowd was to get some guitar players and spice up the worship service with more contemporary worship.

Then as for worship Bob asked, "I'm wondering if instead of some trendy worship we will want to commit each of these things to prayer on Sunday and throughout the week and maybe even preach about them."

By now everyone was looking down because most of what Bob had questioned, they weren't doing. They all mumbled as

Questions Church Leaders Should Be Asking

Then the newest member, Bob, started talking. He said, "I know I'm new around here I wonder is it ok if I ask some questions?" They all said sure. Then he said, "I understand the sense of worry about the budget and paying the light bill and the pastor's salary too. I also understand the temptation to look for some way to attract people. Yet, before we go there, I'd like to ask about some things I'm not so sure about."

With that Bob went through a list of questions about how they do certain things . . . because he is so new. He asked, "What do you do for first time guests? What kind follow up, especially for Christmas, Easter and other quarterly or annual events?"

"Is there a team to take care of all of these things and do it well? Are the current leaders engaging in an intentional apprentice process to grow the next generation and broaden participation?"

"As for finances, how transparent is your budget and expenses? Do you have an annual stewardship process for financial giving and a specific invitation to people to share their God-given talents as an act of worship and discipleship?"

much in reply to Bob's rhetorical questions. Then Bob thought out loud. "I'm wondering how we can try some big new idea when the foundation of standard menu items of a healthy church aren't in place yet." Then he concluded, "what do you guys think?"

What do you think? ✝

Fall 2025 Pastor's Conference Announced

The 2025 FLGA District Pastors Conference will be held September 22-24, 2025 at the Hilton Daytona Beach Oceanfront Resort. The Conference will be developed from the bible verse of JOHN 7 under the theme "Rivers Through the Rubble: Thirsting for More in a Broken World."

The keynote speakers are Leo Sánchez, Professor of Systematic Theology at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis and Chad Lakies, North America Regional Director for Lutheran Hour Ministries.

"Drs. Sánchez and Lakies will unfold our theme with a focus on the work of the Holy Spirit within each of us and through our works of ministry . . . knowing your story, knowing the power of the Holy Spirit, and knowing your 'sphere of influence,'" explains The Rev. Dave Wesche, chairman of the conference. "We will be challenged with the questions, 'How do we as the Church approach theology in a Post-Christian Culture?' and 'How do we embody the Sanctified Life to be attentive to our neighbor's needs?'"

Wesche went on to explain as we wrestle with our theological understanding, we will be taken further into its practical implications . . . "A Winsome Witness in an Age Where the Church is Not Trusted." How do we notice the cracks that need to be engaged/repared? How does our life make faith plausible to "outsiders"? It begins with an appropriate understanding of Vocation, not only as a pastor, but also to equip our parishioners to realize their purpose and fulfillment of life and faith in the Kingdom work of bringing in and making disciples.

Three 45-minute Breakout Sessions will supplement either our need to be filled with more or to slake the thirst of those who are "sitting by the wells" of our specific communities. These sessions will satisfy your need of a quiet place by still waters, renewal of refreshment in the Spirit's flowing river, or preparation for your return into the wilderness of ministry.

"We again are excited to include a special venue for the Pastors' Wives with a lunch gathering and specifically-designed sessions during the Breakout time. We are also adding a designated space for Mothers with Kids – which will be a place of interaction for the kids and respite for moms to share time together," Wesche concludes.

Additional information will be forthcoming via the District Office and its various media platforms and the next issue of Lutheran LIFE. These announcements will include information on conference and hotel registration, schedule, updates on breakout leaders, and other necessary logistics for a great time of walking alongside one another as Jesus quenches our thirst for mission and ministry. ✝

JOHN 7:37b-38: Jesus stood up and cried out, "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink. Whoever believes in Me, as the Scripture has said, 'Out of His heart will flow rivers of living water.'"

Why is VBS Such Serious Fun?

Why is VBS such serious fun? The fun part is easy. First of all, it's for kids, and kids are just plain fun to be around. They are also sponges who soak in all that they can. And then there's the crafts, the colors, the décor, the fun music with motions and everything in between. Yes, VBS is a blast!

But what makes VBS also serious? I'll start with a story. When my brother-in-law was a boy, someone asked his family if they would like to come to Vacation Bible School. They did, and from that something wonderful happened. His family got connected, and they started coming to church.

Church and God became such an integral part of my brother-in-law's life that he became a Lutheran educator. His family got connected to Jesus – the most important thing that can happen to anyone.

Quite a few years ago I had a girl named Heather in my VBS class. I was teaching 5th grade that year. God blessed us with many great discussions about Himself, salvation, and how to spend forever with Him. We were discussing MARK 16:16 which says, "He who believes and is baptized will be saved, but he who does not believe will be condemned." Heather – who was visiting Florida at the time to see her father – was concerned because she believed but had not been baptized yet but wanted to be. She asked if she died, would she go to heaven?

I explained that yes, she would, because she believed, but that it would be good to follow that up with baptism, and we discussed the reasons why. She was relieved to hear that. VBS ended, and a couple days later I got a call from my pastor that Heather had died; she had died in her sleep from a heart problem that no one knew about. He then went on to say that Heather was in 4th grade; she shouldn't have been in my 5th grade class in the first place. I was shocked by it all – but totally humbled to see how God had laid it all out – humbled that He had chosen little old me to possibly be the last one to share spiritual truths with her, spiritual truths that mattered for eternity.

But isn't that what it's all about? It's about little old you and little old me being chosen by the God of the universe to share spiritual truths with those who don't know Him or those who are young in their faith.

Every single day He lays out those opportunities right in front of us. In the Great Commission in MATTHEW 28:19 He tells us to go and make disciples of all nations. That's you and that's me who He is talking to, and He gifts us in different ways to do that. I am always amazed at how our VBS comes together like a well-oiled machine – the oil of the Holy Spirit that is.

I am always amazed at how our preschool crew reaches the little children with all that they do; that area is not where God has gifted me. I am always blown away at how our kitchen crew can cook dinner for 100 people or more five days in a row; that is not where I am gifted.

Becky Hartmann is a member of Hope Lutheran Plant City, FL and the FLGA District representing Region #3 bhartmann3@verizon.net

I am thankful to be able to lead our middle/high school class for VBS; that is where I find great joy. Those are just a few examples. Our whole VBS comes together because God places us in the areas where we are gifted, and He oils up the VBS machine with His Holy Spirit to make it run well.

So why is VBS such serious fun? Because it is about eternal truths. It is a chance to creatively connect people to Jesus with these truths. My prayer is that those same eyes that are looking at me so intently when we are talking about God and heaven and how to get there will be the same eyes looking at me when I am someday walking the streets of heaven. Oh God, may You work in the hearts of those we encounter this summer in VBS so that we may share in eternity together – because forever is a really long time! ✝

Peter Pan Flies at Boca Raton Stage, 30+ Baptisms Celebrated

Peter Pan is one of the most beloved and frequently performed family favorites of all time. This high-flying Tony Award-winning musical has been performed around the world.

St. Paul/Boca Raton, FL students presented two performances on May 16th where Peter and his mischievous fairy sidekick, Tinkerbell, visit the nursery of the Darling children late one night and, with a sprinkle of pixie dust, begin a magical journey across the stars that none of them will ever forget.

Featuring the iconic songs, "I'm Flying," "I've Gotta Crow," "I Won't Grow Up" and "Never Never Land," and a rousing book full of magic, warmth and adventure, Peter Pan Jr. was a success with amazing costumes and set design. The musical was directed by St. Paul's music teacher extraordinaire, Ms. Rebecca Schaffer.

On Easter Tuesday during St. Paul's morning chapel service, Pastor Steve Carretto performed seven baptisms. (below at left).

Since the beginning of the school year, Pastor Carretto has baptized more than 30 individuals — many of them St. Paul school students and many from the surrounding community. ✝

On May 1, 2025, Good Shepherd/ Sarasota, FL students participated in the National Day of Prayer and had each classroom create a prayer chain. They circled the entire campus. ✝

St. Michael Celebrates Three New Ministers

On Sunday, April 27th, the voters assembly of St. Michael/Fort Myers, FL extended two Divine Calls: the first Call to Mr. Dan Maser for Principal of St. Michael Lutheran School, and the second Divine Call to The Rev. Dr. Roy Peterson as Associate Pastor and Chief Financial Officer.

Both Divine Calls were accepted.

Mr. Maser is a graduate of Concordia/St. Paul, MN and has a Masters Degree from the University of St. Thomas in St. Paul, MN. He has been an educator and Principal in Minnesota for more than 20 years.

Dan Maser

Dr. Peterson, a well-known clergyman within the national LCMS church body, has served in multiple positions at Concordia University/Wisconsin, including Senior Vice President of Advancement, Chief Financial Officer and Vice President of Economic Development. He also served as board chairman and president of the Concordia University Foundation while being active with CU Ventures, an organization affiliated principally with the multiple universities of the Concordia University System. Established initially at Concordia University Wisconsin, the purpose is to provide a conduit to promulgate ideas, concepts, inventions and products that can develop into viable business opportunities ultimately benefiting the missions of our entrepreneurial founders, investors and university partners.

Most recently Peterson has served as Senior Ministry Advancement Counselor for Lutheran Hour Ministries, working remotely. His career started in the financial markets and that led to starting his own firm with a colleague. After ten years of successful growth, he sold his interest in order to attend the seminary and become a Lutheran pastor.

Roy Peterson

Sam Morganstern

Prior to coming to Concordia Wisconsin, Peterson served a large, growing congregation in a Milwaukee suburb for almost ten years. He holds advanced degrees, including an MBA in finance and a Doctor of Ministry, the highest professional degree in pastoral ministry offered by seminaries within the LCMS. St. Michael is also welcoming a DCE Intern, Sam Morganstern, joining them from Concordia University/Irvine, CA. His ministry focus will be Jr. and Sr. High Youth. ✝

Our Savior/Plantation, FL partnered with St. Paul/Weston to share the heart of Jesus with the surrounding community. The event was "Bless Broward", a morning of community service at five different sites across multiple municipalities.

Volunteers had the choice to serve in a beach clean-up project in Ft. Lauderdale, the creation of a "serenity garden" at the Lippman Youth Shelter in Oakland Park, the installation of a spring themed experience room at a Plantation school for children with disabilities, the delivery of non-perishable groceries to the homes of the needful in the surroundings cities or "spring caroling" visits to local residences rehab facility and a senior living community to share the love of Jesus with song.

The Bless Broward slogan is "One heart, many places." With roughly a hundred people volunteering this third year, it could be said that it was, "Many bodies, one heart" as everyone shared the love of our one Lord Jesus Christ at each site. Among those participating were youth and parents from American Heritage Girls Troop 1483, Our Savior Lutheran Schools National Junior Honor Society students and DCE Jeremy Becker of St. Paul Lutheran Weston.✝

Trinity/Delray Coach Named Recipient of Tom Schultze Memorial Leadership Award

Trinity/Delray Beach, FL

Coach Pete Silva, Early Childhood Director and Varsity Boys head basketball coach, received the Tom Schultze Award at the Lutheran Basketball Association of America (LBAA) National Tournament. The Tom Schultze Memorial National Basketball Coaching Leadership Award is presented by the Lutheran Basketball Association of America (LBAA). It recognizes coaches who demonstrate outstanding leadership in the context of Lutheran basketball.

"I watched Mr. Silva interact with his team and carry himself on the sideline. He uplifted the boys — no matter what the score was. His interactions with everyone involved was what this award means," said Nathan Loewe, Trinity Athletic Director.

Coach Silva has been the head coach of Trinity's 7th and 8th grade boys team for eight years while participating in the program for 18. Leading the team to the National tournament for the first time was a product of the last four years of teams showing that they could compete with anyone.

"Coach Silva is proud of the family environment the team has developed and loves to see the alumni come back every year to encourage the current team," Loewe concluded.✝

Students Dive into God's Creation During Marine Science Trip

This spring, the 8th grade class at Trinity/Delray Beach, FL had the incredible opportunity to travel to the Florida Keys for a multi-day marine science experience at the Marine Lab – a hands-on marine science education facility in Key Largo, Florida.

The lab offers school field trips (from day trips to weeklong stays), virtual programs, summer camps, family days, and teacher workshops. Students were able to study coastal ecosystems – coral reefs, mangroves, and seagrass beds – through guided snorkeling, labs, and interactive lessons. The oceanfront campus includes marine science labs, dorms, and a dining hall, making it ideal for overnight STEM trips.

The lab has more than 40 years experience working with students and is trusted by teachers, parents, and students for unforgettable marine science adventures in the Florida Keys.

“Surrounded by the beauty of God’s creation, students participated in hands-on activities including lagoon and ocean snorkeling, zooplankton identification, and field identification of reef fish. The trip not only enriched their science curriculum but also deepened their appreciation for the intricacy and wonder of the natural world. It was a memorable adventure that brought learning to life – right in the heart of God’s underwater masterpiece,” offered Jenna Barnhouse, Trinity’s Marketing and Communications Manager. ✝

Veterans of the Cross Announces Dates, Keynote Speakers

Come to the 2026 Veterans of the Cross Gathering and be reminded that we can overcome the chaos of this life because we are empowered by the strength of Christ to proclaim the Good News, to boldly stand up for the faith within us, and to celebrate the freedoms found in living in our nation.

As we look forward to celebrating our nation's 250th anniversary and approach the 25th anniversary of 9-11 we are facing turbulent times.

Four distinguished and notable Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod personalities, The Rev. Dr. Dave Benke and wife, Judy, and The Rev. Dr. Jerry Kieschnick and wife, Terry, will bring powerful words and related Bible study pertaining to Christ remaining our refuge and strength during tempestuous and calamitous times. All four of them plan to take us through some of the chaos surrounding the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks and the civic service where New York political leaders and leaders of several different religions in the U.S. participated in a prayer service in Yankee

Lutheran Haven Prides Volunteer-Run Village Shoppe

Over the years, the Village Shoppe has helped to provide wonderful amenities such as purchasing new rocking chairs, and golf carts and many other items from the Haven's "Wish List" — all benefiting the entire community.

"The Shoppe opened in March of 1981 with a simple idea: sell handmade items and greeting cards to raise funds for Lutheran Haven" explains Sally Row, manager. "The small space has grown over the past 44 years into a delightful shopping destination filled with a wide variety of specialty items at fantastic prices. Everything except the broad selection of new greeting cards is generously donated by residents and community members."

According to Row, it's not uncommon for the Shoppe to receive items that have been donated to the Haven Flea Market that are a better fit for this boutique setting. You'll find men's and women's clothing, shoes, purses, jewelry, art, dishes, glassware and like-new kitchenware, plus seasonal décor and the kind of eclectic treasures you didn't know you needed! There is even a "feature table" showcasing items for specific holidays or occasions.

The Village Shoppe is a proud part of the Lutheran Haven Auxiliary and is lovingly maintained by a devoted team of volunteers. These residents serve as cashiers and salespeople who tag and price merchandise, dust and tidy displays.

"We always want our buyers to go home happy with their treasures. This is a team effort, and we want to keep both our shoppers and our volunteers happy," Row concludes.

Currently, the Shoppe is open to the public from 1 to 4pm on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Any person performing work without a required license is subject to fines and legal penalties, and any contract entered into may be deemed void or unenforceable. Written Contracts

Contracts should always be in writing and should clearly state the scope of work, materials to be used, payment terms, timelines, and penalties for non-performance and above all, signed by both contractor and property owner. Avoid paying large deposits. A typical good-faith deposit is around 10–20% of the contract amount. As a community, we can work together to ensure that dishonest contractors are held accountable and that our churches, schools, and our homes remain safe places for worship, education, and family.

Faith-based schools in the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod are committed not only to academic excellence but also to ministry through education. Tuition payments are a necessary part of sustaining these ministries, yet challenges arise when accounts fall into delinquency.

Addressing unpaid tuition requires balancing financial stewardship with Christian compassion. This article provides an overview of the legal landscape in Florida and Georgia, with practical guidance for LCMS schools seeking to manage tuition collections faithfully and lawfully. In both Florida and Georgia, the time limit to pursue collection of unpaid tuition depends on whether the obligation is based on a written or oral agreement.

In Florida, the statute of limitations for written contracts is five years, as provided in Florida Statutes section 95.11(2)(b). For oral agreements, it is four years under section 95.11(3)(k). The time period begins on the date payment became due and was not made, in accordance with section 95.031(1). Monthly billing notices do not reset the statute. Only a partial payment, a written acknowledgment of the debt, or a new promise to pay will restart the limitations period.

In Georgia, the statute of limitations is six years for written contracts under O.C.G.A. section 9-3-24, and four years for oral contracts under section 9-3-26. As in Florida, the deadline runs from the date of default, and routine billing communications have no legal effect on the limitations period. In Florida, the Florida Consumer Collection Practices Act (FCCPA) applies even to original creditors, including schools, under section 559.72. This law prohibits practices such as harassment, threats, misleading statements, or disclosure of the debt to third parties. LCMS schools must take care not to violate these provisions proceed with great care when considering lawsuits against families. Filing suit may be perceived as inconsistent with the mission of Christian service, especially in communities where personal relationships and church ties are deeply rooted.

Schools are encouraged to exhaust all informal options first, such as offering payment plans, discussing hardship situations, or engaging in mediation.

Stewardship, Compassion, and Tuition Collection

A Legal and Practical Guide for LCMS Schools in Florida and Georgia

when communicating with families about delinquent accounts.

In Georgia, the Fair Business Practices Act (O.C.G.A. section 10-1-390) is more limited in scope. It generally targets deceptive conduct in consumer transactions and applies more clearly to third-party collectors than to original creditors. Still, faith-based schools should apply similar standards of fairness and discretion to avoid public criticism or unintended legal exposure.

A school's right to recover attorney's fees in litigation depends on what the enrollment agreement says. In Florida, section 57.105(7) provides that if one party is entitled to attorney's fees under a contract, the other party is entitled to them as well if they prevail. In Georgia, similar provisions are governed by O.C.G.A. section 13-1-11, which requires that the contract include a fees clause and that proper notice be given before enforcement.

While legal action is sometimes appropriate, LCMS schools should

It is also critical that tuition collection policies be applied consistently to all students and families. Clear written policies, shared at the time of enrollment, help ensure fairness, reduce the risk of misunderstandings, and protect the integrity of the school's witness in the community.

As Lutheran educators and leaders, we are called to be both faithful and prudent in our stewardship. Scripture reminds us in 1 PETER 4:10: "Each one should use whatever gift he has received to serve others, faithfully administering God's grace in its various forms." That includes managing the resources entrusted to our schools with integrity, mercy, and a heart centered on the Gospel. ✝

Jacob Manning Serving Bethlehem/

Jacob Manning, grew up in Orange, California and has lived there his entire life. His father, Mark Manning, is pastor at Searchlight Ministries, an LCMS congregation based in Fullerton, CA. His mother, Heather, serves as the Director of Christian Education.

Jacob is the middle child of two brothers who are both on the autism spectrum. "It was definitely weird and difficult at times to be the only brother without a mental disability, but that does not negate the fact that I love my brothers" Jacob explains. "I became a babysitter for my brothers at a pretty early age and was the unofficial "older brother" even though I was the middle child. I love to joke that I drew the short straw in both cases. I had all the responsibilities of the oldest – but got treated as the middle child.

The majority of Jacob's

Bethlehem. "At times it has been hectic for sure, but I enjoy it so much," he emphasizes. "My pastors, Dana Allen Brones and Nathan McCarty have been great mentors and coaches to me as I am being formed to become a pastor."

Jacob explains that he first felt the call to ministry when he was about seven years old. Prior to his congregation having an official building, they were a nomadic group looking for sites to rent. He remembers sitting in a hotel ballroom on the stairs overlooking their worship space and thinking "this place is pretty cool. I get free donuts, I get to run around wherever I want! How do I stay here forever?" It was then that I looked at my father smiling and talking to someone, and it clicked! He is always here! And so I ran up to my dad and told him, "Dad! I want to be a pastor just like you!"

That feeling has never diminished. "I'm no longer in it for the donuts, but there were many times when this desire should have a school connected to it, a school that I was going to for my seventh and eighth grade years. Quickly, the kind words and pleasant faces of students, faculty, and the like turned to cold words and callous faces. I initially thought that I had done something wrong, and so I went to my father to talk about it. It was then that he told me everything that was happening. I was shocked. Can a church really do that to a pastor? Can this place that is fed by my father on a spiritual level really bite him instead? I guess the dramatics can only go so far, as you know that I am currently a vicar. This terrible experience of church politics should have steered me away from being a pastor, but instead it strengthened it. I wanted to be a pastor that much more since I knew that bad stuff can happen to a pastor! It isn't all sunshine and rainbows, and I'm ready for that. I want to be a pastor in the joyous times and in the darkest times because, in my father – while he was going through these challenges – I still saw Christ in him.

Fast-forward to Jacob's under-graduate education – at Concordia/ Irvine, California he entered the pre-seminary program. "I grew immensely in my time in college. As a sophomore, I participated in 'Around the World' program – visiting countries like China, Israel, Uganda, and others. We learned part of the languages, the literature, and did mission work at different Christian entities around the world," he offers. "It was right after that program when COVID struck. I was able to finish up college and have a semi-normal senior year being heavily involved in the men's ministry program and had the honor to be a type of mentor to many other students whom I call good friends today."

Jacob will return to Concordia Seminary/St. Louis, MO this summer and complete his education leading to ordination.

"Concordia Seminary is where I also found the love of my life – Julie Baumann, a deaconess

When Jacob isn’t working, he enjoys chatting with friends from the seminary or from his college days. He also loves being outdoors and doing sporty activities like spikeball, volleyball, pickleball, and more. He also loves being at home playing video games or watching a good show or movie.

“Vicar Jacob is Bethlehem’s 14th vicar,” offers Senior Pastor Brones. “While every vicar has been uniquely gifted by God, Vicar Jacob brings a lifelong experience of being a ‘preacher’s kid.’ He was raised in the church and was exposed to great preaching and pastoral leadership. It is evident being a pastor is in Jacob’s DNA.”

Pastor Brones takes his supervisory role very seriously. This summer he’ll receive vicar #15. “These young men require an investment of time, energy, and pastoral mentoring. However, the dividends pay off when the congregation sees a young man, who arrived ‘green as could be,’ now capable of pastoring a church anywhere the Lord calls him.

Vicar Jacob is such a young man, and the Lord already knows exactly where He wants Jacob to serve as Pastor upon completion of vicarage and seminary studies,” Brones concludes. ✝

FSU's Lutheran Campus Ministry Goes Into

It was Maundy Thursday, April 17, 2025 around 11:55 AM when shots rang out on Florida State University's campus. In just a matter of moments, two people had been killed by a shooter and another six were wounded!

The Rev. Jay Winters was in a meeting on campus when the "FSU Alert," (a campus wide mobile device notification) went out, informing everyone on campus to stay locked down and to shelter in place.

During the lockdown Winters prayed and reached out to students. Thankfully, none of the students who were connected with University Lutheran were harmed physically – but many were locked down throughout a widespread area of campus.

Colten Brown, a student from Grace/Jacksonville, FL was locked in a classroom with ten other people.

Joseph DeValle, a student who converted to Lutheranism during his time at FSU, was locked in his ROTC building.

Molly Kimball, a student leader at University Lutheran, with one of the Lutheran Church Charities Comfort Dogs

Andrew Cheyne, a student from St. Paul/Lakeland, FL – who is planning on attending Concordia Seminary in the coming year – was in the Student Union – the building where the shooter was located. Andrew was in the back of the building and away from danger, but was obviously frightened when people began pouring into the room he was in with news of a shooter on campus.

Other University Lutheran students were in places like their dorm rooms or off-campus apartments, hearing news and watching social media for updates.

Thankfully, the shooter was apprehended by the FSU Campus Police Force. Students were allowed to return to their friends and living spaces. That night, many of them came to University Lutheran's Maundy Thursday service, an experience of remembering God's presence even during difficult times.

In the coming days, students would be ministered to and would minister to others. Several students were able to be present at the campus-wide vigil held on Good Friday. University Lutheran's leaders were able to help with the Lutheran Church Charities Comfort Dogs that mobilized in order to be with FSU students the week after the shooting.

Joseph DeValle was able to have a significant conversation about God with his roommate, Pablo, who had been resistant to talking about faith until that moment.

Andrew Cheyne was able to witness to his faith while being interviewed by a reporter on the FSU campus.

University Lutheran's Easter services were featured by a television station interested in a story of hope after the shooting.

There is still much for these students to process. Molly Kimball, a student leader at University Lutheran, expressed "I thought I knew what this year was going to be like, and now this has happened and I have to rethink it all."

Sadly, shootings like this one have become more common than they once were. We can pray together that God will somehow stop this violence on our campuses, but this tragedy also provided an example of why the campus ministries of our Florida Georgia District are paramount. These students were able to both find solace and be shining lights of witness to the dark world around them because there is a campus ministry like University Lutheran at Florida State University. ✝

Action After Maundy Thursday Shooting

The FSU campus vigil following the shooting was held on Good Friday at Langford Green, a large grassy area on the campus. It was a public gathering where thousands of students, faculty, staff, and community members came together to honor the victims.

Lutheran Church Charities "Hearts of Mercy & Compassion, Crosses for Losses" provides a physical and spiritual symbol through the giving of hearts and crosses to families and friends who have suffered loss or serious illness of a loved one. A caring Christian provides these symbols in order to share the hope of Jesus Christ in their time of need in Presence and Prayer. The Hearts allow people to write a message or signature on them to show their love and support for those grieving or suffering. They were included at one of the many memorials erected on campus following the tragedy.

CAMPUS

August marks the start of another academic year on college and university campuses across our Florida-Georgia District. With that new beginning, campus communities have the joy of welcoming students who are excited, nervous, confused, hopeful, questioning, sharing, etc. Put another way . . . campus communities have the joy of welcoming students who are like us – needing the stability and joy of who our God is and what He has done for them!

Those involved in campus ministry in the FLGA District witness God at work strengthening the faithful, reclaiming the prodigals, reaching the lost and growing young adults to be faithful in their vocations. According to Kansas District Campus Ministry Coordinator, The Rev. Mark Boxman, campus ministry is rarely dull! Students are curious – seeking answers to questions like how do dinosaurs, cavemen and millions of years fit into the biblical record? What does the Bible say about gender, abortion, homosexuality? What are fasting and ashes all about? Where did the devil come from? What do Muslims believe? What can I say to a friend who doesn't believe in God? What does the Bible say about tattoos?

The FLGA District is blessed to have passionate and knowledgeable pastors serving several of our colleges and universities.

Towards that end you should communicate with our campus clergy – to help them connect with students as they assimilate into a new school environment. We have District-supported efforts on several campuses in our District:

As a student center and congregation, Christus Victor worships each Sunday at 8:00 and 10:45 am with a Christian Education hour beginning at 9:30 am. They also offer many midweek student fellowship, Bible studies and worship.

Pastor Jay Winters and University Lutheran

Three Florida State Seminoles students are heading west to Concordia Seminary/St. Louis, MO in fall. "At our last District Convention in 2022, University Lutheran, our campus congregation at Florida State University, brought an overture to the assembly that every congregation of the District should pray out loud on Sunday mornings that God would bring about workers for the harvest fields," states University Lutheran pastor, The Rev. Jay Winters. "Additionally, many in our District have followed our Mission Executive, The Rev. Dr. Peter Meier in praying every morning at 10:02 that God would provide workers for this harvest. With all of that prayer, something was bound to happen," Winters emphasizes.

"This year, I'm enthusiastic to report that three graduates of Florida State University are leaving their campus ministry, University Lutheran, to head to Concordia/St. Louis! Each will begin the road of training to become pastors, so that they might lead church communities in sharing the Gospel. Each of them have their own story as they leave FSU for Concordia, St. Louis:

Andrew Cheyne

Andrew Cheyne grew up at St. Paul/Lakeland, FL attending St. Paul's Lutheran School and came to FSU as a communications major interested in doing something with sports communications.

While at University Lutheran, Andrew began feeling God pull him in the direction of seminary training and pastoral ministry. He began meeting with and praying with Pastor Jay Winters who shepherded him and the other students through the process of applications, interviews, and other things necessary for seminary. In addition to being a part of University Lutheran's student group, Andrew along with fellow seminarian Scott Swanson were both also the successive presidents of another student ministry group called Ratio Christi which does outreach to students at FSU around the reasonableness of the Christian faith.

Richard Harry

Richard Harry came to FSU in 2008 when he arrived in Tallahassee to begin work on a Ph.D. degree in Religion, Philosophy, & Ethics. He met Pastor Jay Winters early in that time period and became a member at University Lutheran throughout his long journey to achieving his Ph.D. degree. During this time he met and married his wife, Ximi, who was a classmate of his in the Religion department at FSU.

It was while Richard was working as an adjunct professor at the nearby Tallahassee State College that he began to feel God pulling him toward pastoral ministry. He began meeting and praying with Pastor Jay and decided that while it would be possible for him to take an alternate route to ministry, that he wanted the full Masters of Divinity experience that Concordia Seminary can offer. He and Ximi moved to St. Louis in February as God opened a door for a job for Ximi in the Department of Justice.

Scott Swanson

Scott Swanson came to FSU from Minnesota where he had been attending an Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) congregation. Since University Lutheran is the only Lutheran ministry on FSU's campus, Scott showed up to worship at the LCMS University Lutheran. Scott became interested in University Lutheran and eventually left his ELCA membership, becoming a member at University Lutheran. Scott had been praying privately about going to the seminary while on a trip to Kenya with others from University Lutheran. "[Pastor Jay] beat me to asking about it when he asked me 'When are you going to talk to me about seminary?'" Pastor Jay remembers Scott saying, "Scott looked like he had seen a ghost when I said that and told me that he had been praying to God for an opportunity to talk to me about seminary. I said, 'Well, here's the opportunity, let's talk!'"

Sending Three Noles to Concordia Seminary

University Lutheran continues to pray for these men as they enter into the seminary and ask that your church would join in praying for them. If your church has not yet, University Lutheran recommends that your congregation begins praying outloud every Sunday morning for God to send pastors, lay leaders, and other church workers into His harvest fields. He is certainly listening and is granting our prayers through young men like Scott, Richard, and Andrew.

Ministry is Alive and Well in Florida-Georgia

As the FLGA District PR and Communications Director, I manage to get around to anniversaries, installations, ordinations, athletic events, concerts and theatre productions, picnics, convocations, Board of Directors and committee meetings, and, of course, the triennial conventions.

This convention I served on Floor Committee #1 with Vice President Charles Reich and we crafted the language for resolutions pertaining to Missions and Outreach. It was a rewarding experience working with talented District Board members as we fine-tuned issues surrounding equipping disciples to share their faith, encourage church multiplication, celebrate, support and expand our Lutheran schools and to offer ministry emphases to our national LCMS church body.

I'm a bit of a convention junkie . . . always enjoying catching up with friends from not just Florida and Georgia but from across the nation who are passionately "Equipped, Empowered and Engaged" in the mission of Connecting People to Jesus! Some of the best convention times are out of the assembly hall during breaks, lunches, dinners and "after parties" in private rooms.

One such gathering, in Pastor Tim Barber's suite, I had the opportunity to get into conversation with Andrew Cheyney, Vice President Jay Winters' lay delegate from Florida State University/Tallahassee. He's headed to seminary this fall.

What a great guy! What a fascinating story and what a joy to meet young men who are pursuing the pastoral ministry. And when writing this issue's campus-themed articles, it's rewarding to learn of the men from our District who are entering seminary.

Consider regularly praying for pastors, perhaps daily or weekly. You can pray for specific needs and challenges they face and gather with others to pray collectively. Letting them know you are praying for them can offer encouragement.

Then at dinner one night I sat with FLGA District Secretary, The Rev. Greg Michael and his son, Ben. Here was an example of a young recent university graduate serving as the lay delegate to his home congregation before heading to Atlanta and beginning a career in accounting. There were three District Presidents and a Synod Vice President at my dinner table and I just sat back and smiled as they grilled him about "not ruling out seminary" in the future.

After all he comes from a long-line of pastors — his dad is our District Secretary to the Board of Directors and his grandfather, President Emeritus to our FLGA District, The Rev. Dr. Gerhard Michael. I wanted to remind this unofficial Praesidium that, hey!, we need good lay leaders in the church too!

Do you know a young man or woman who might enter one of our colleges or universities for the teaching, diaconess, DCE, music or pastoral ministry? Encourage them. The harvest is plentiful . . . but the workers are few!
